SWEPT BY A FLOOD

West Guthrie, Oklahoma. Almost Entirely Destroyed.

MANY PEOPLE WERE DROWNED.

A Mighty Wall of Water From Six to Eight Feet High Swept Across the City Without Warning—Hundreds of Houses Wrecked and For Miles Farms Were Completely Ruined.

GUTHRIE, O. T., April 29.—For miles the Canadian valley is a dreary waste and her people overcast with gloom. At sunrise yesterday morning a mighty wall of water from six to eight feet high and a mile wide, broke upon West Guthrie without warning, crushing houses, sweeping away property and drowning people by the score. Every movable thing was swept before the wave, which passed on into the valley with resistless force, taking terrible destruction to life and property wherever it reached. Dozens of human lives are known to have been sacrificed, how many may not be known for weeks; hundreds of houses were wrecked; for miles farms were completely ruined, bridges and tracks were washed out and railway traffic in every direction is at a standstill.

The most complete chaos prevailed. The efforts of rescuing parties have in many cases proved in vain. Many people floated down stream before they could be reached, and their fate is unknown; others passed the night in trees in midstream or perched on house-tops. It is impossible to estimate the number of the dead. The property loss is placed at something near a million dollars.

Fully two-thirds of the victims were colored people. Business has been entirely suspended in Guthrie, the stores and banks being closed. As thorough an organization for relief as is possible has been made, but all aid has been necessarily retarded by the confused condition of things. It will be impossible to explore the houses until the water shall subside, as many of them are submerged.

The river is 30 feet above its ordinary level.

The flood is supposed to have been caused by a cloudburst supplemented by heavy rains. The Cottonwood river, ordinarily a small stream that winds between steep banks on West Guthrie, was bank full from a heavy rain Tuesday and Tuesday night, but no alarm was felt, as the river had been rising gradually for some time. About 6 o'clock, however, waters from a cloudburst above had added to those already nearly up to the level of the high banks, and the flood was sweeping through West Guthrie, a section populated mostly by colored people. Persons who saw the first fall of water said that it was about 18 inches high, spreading entirely across the valley. There was no water in front of it save that in the river's channel. The first wave was followed by others in quick succession, until the whole settled into a bank from six to eight feet high. Many had already begun carrying their household goods to places of safety, but few had made more than one trip when they were forced to flee for their lives before a raging, resistless torrent that no power of man could hope to stay.

The main supply pipe of the water works system burst where it crossed the Cottonwood, in the southern part of the city, and all the water in the reservoirs poured into the river.

In the southwestern part of the city a long arm of land is formed by the winding of the river. On this land lived hundreds of negroes. During the night the bridge leading across the river to the main section had been swept away. The people were absorbed in watching the rising waters yesterday morning, when the floods from the reservoirs came down in a solid wall and cut across the arm of land near the mainland, cutting off the people from escape. They fled from their homes to the higher portions of the newly-formed island. In a half hour the mountain of water had done its work and practically spent itself. The air became hideous with the crashing of houses and the cries for help of the unfortunates.

When the first shock of the disaster was over the more fortunate on the island immediately began to help those nearest them, while across in Guthrie proper prompt steps were taken at rescue. The houses, barns and other effects began to drift down stream, each freighted with one or more human beings; boats or rafts shot out here and there from the shore, and desperate efforts were made to rescue the people. Improvised rafts were quickly thrown together and started out into the mad stream. Before many of them had been propelled a couple of yards from shore they were twisted and broken by the waters, and the would-be rescuers thrown into the stream. Half a dozen rescuers were drowned, even before those they had tried to save had been reached.

Gna Platt, business manager of the

Guthrie Leader, and George Willis, a merchant tailor, swam the river at the risk of their lives and secured a boat, by which a number of persons were saved.

A negro woman with a babe in her arms desperately tried to steady herself in a tree top, calling the while for help. She grew weak and the baby slipped into the water and was drowned. She was finally rescued and said her family of six had been lost.

A woman wading from home with her baby on her head was seen to go under, and a man swimming the channel to reach four women and a baby in a tree was carried down stream. Two women and a child were carried on a bridge further down stream, and one man and two women, in plain sight of shore, were on a house roof when it went to pieces. They all perished.

An old negro woman was seen clinging to a house-top. The building soon turned over and she was drowned.

Three men, Walter Olds, John Vandusen and Eugene Gilla, sought to rescue an old man from a tree. Their raft struck an overhanging tree and they barely saved themselves by clambering into another tree. They were finally rescued on a rope sent to them by means of a shotgun and cord.

Two men secured a small stern-wheel pleasure boat and started to the rescue of a half dozen men and women lodged in a tree. The persons were rescued amid the cheers of the spectators. The cable holding the craft finally broke and it was carried down stream, but ultimately landed safely.

Adjutant General Jameson of the territorial militia narrowly escaped with his family. He was forced to wade and lead his horse with his family in the buggy.

John Metz, aged 55, was capsized while trying to save a woman who sunk before he reached her. Metz himself was barely rescued.

George Owens, Attorney Teague Ray and Dick Pearson were precipitated into the water while trying to save some people, and Owens was drowned.

The wife and five children of Wesley McGill, colored, were drowned in their home.

Among those known to have been drowned are:

Anna Kaiser, a school teacher.

Frank Mayers.

George Owens.

J. H. Calhoun, wife and child.

Charlie Rufner and wife.

Rastus McGill.

Lena Burk.

Mrs. Watt.

Mrs. Wesley McGill and five children.

John Metz.

Mrs. Frances Moore.

John Beard.

Mrs. Sae Wilson.

Jennie Taylor.

Sammie Jackson.

George Smithers.

Mrs. H. James Montgomery.

Mrs. Dummills.

Jim Lilly.

Mrs. Dumas.

H. H. Beckinger.

It is believed that loss of life has also occurred south of Guthrie, along the Cottonwood river. Many farm-houses in that district are reported to have been swept away.

Seven miles south of here, at Seward, Hunt's store and the postoffice were swept away.

Four thousand dollars was raised in Guthrie yesterday afternoon for the relief of the sufferers.

HELD UP AND ROBBED.

Mexican Bandits Use Knives on Two American Miners.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 29.—More details of the murder of Klein and Callahan, American citizens, have been reported from Guadalajara. Both men were riding in a wagon from Ameca to the Barranca mine, it being only six miles distant. Callahan was superintendent of the property, which was jointly owned by himself and Cleveland (O.) capitalists. His companion, Klein, was employed as amalgamator. They left town about 8 o'clock in the morning, driving a pair of American horses, attached to a timber wagon. Mr. Callahan carrying with him about $400 in silver to meet the weekly pay roll of the mine.

At a sharp turn of the road five masked men sprang out, ordering the Americans to throw up their hands. At the sight of them Callahan drew his pistol and fired, but was seized immediately from behind by one bandit, while another gave him a stab in the left breast. The three other bandits fell upon Klein, inflicting 11 wounds with their knives.

The road agents secured the $400 and fled to the mountains. A servant found Callahan just regaining consciousness and Klein lying dead by the roadside. Both the military and civil authorities are exerting every possible effort to secure the bandits. It is now thought that Callahan may live.

Thought It Would Spread.

CARROLLTON, Ky., April 29.—A fire occurred at the corner of Fourth and Main streets yesterday. The frame residence of Jeff Hunter was burned and the brick block of J. M. Giltner and others badly damaged by fire. Hunter's loss, $1,200; no insurance. Giltner's loss, $1,200; fully insured. At one time the whole square, one of the best in town, seemed in danger.

EXCITEMENT KEPT UP.

Opposition to the Greek Government Made Manifest.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

Opposition Deputies Advise All Citizens of Athens to Aid in Allaying the Dynastic Crisis—But Very Little Fighting Has Occurred Along the Frontier—Salonica Feels Safe From Bombardment.

ATHENS, April 29.—Public excitement is increasing every hour. The foreigners are hoisting their national flags over the buildings inhabited by them. A popular outbreak is feared.

The opposition deputies have issued the following address to the people:

"Fellow Citizens: In the critical period through which the country is passing, summoning of the chamber is necessary. The opposition believes it to be its duty to address to all citizens a recommendation and a request to do all in their power to contribute to the maintenance of order which is indispensable not only for the safety of all, but because it constitutes an indispensable element for safeguarding the honor and rights of the nation.

"Let us not forget that the enemy is treading the soil of our country and that our army is confronting it. At such a moment any one attempting to disturb order would be nothing but an ally of the Turks."

This address is signed by all the opposition deputies now in Athens.

The extraordinary session of the legislative assembly convened last evening and adjourned because a quorum was not present. The adjournment was followed by considerable excitement and cries of disapproval from the gallery.

A dense crowd gathered in the vicinity of the chamber to get the first news of such action as might be taken. There was, however, no disorder. Many of the ministerial deputies declare that they will vote against the government on the question of confidence.

Late last night it was rumored that the Greeks are still fighting in front of Pentepegadia.

The headquarters of the Greek army are being removed to Dom Okos, a long way south of Pharsalas.

Edhem Pasha has issued a proclamation inviting the Greeks to return to Larissa.

King George on receiving a distinguished caller yesterday, said to him: "I am ready to accept all my country's wishes. What I desire, is that not a drop of blood shall be shed on my account."

M. Levidis, the Greek minister of marine, has declined to withdraw his resignation until the government has replaced Commodore Sachtouris, basing his refusal on the fact that Sachtouris gave as a reason for the fleets inaction the roughness of the weather.

ADVICES TO LONDON.

It is Believed There That the Powers Will Intervene.

LONDON, April 29.—Matters at Athens are likely to remain unchanged until the ministerial crisis is settled, when overtures from the powers to intervene are expected. The sultan is said to be willing to listen to terms.

The downfall of the Delyannis cabinet is taken for granted, though it has not actually occurred. M. Ralli, who is likely to succeed Delyannis, was equally keen for war.

Little or nothing seems to be known at Athens or is reported here as to the movements of the Greek fleet.

The only news of actual fighting in progress yesterday afternoon comes from Velesino, which commands the road to Volo. Probably this indicates an intention of the Turks to march southward.

It is said that Edhem Pasha has sent a white flag to Volo, with the assurance that the Turkish troops will inflict no damage upon the city or citizens. There seems little doubt, therefore, that he intends to occupy Volo.

The Greek forces now extend in a 14-mile line from Pharsalos to Velesino. Pharsalos commands the Turkish pass and the road leading to Athens by way of Larissa.

Turks Routed.

VOLO, April 29.—The Turkish advance forces have attacked the Greeks at Velesino, about eight miles west of this city and on the railroad connecting this place with Larissa and Pharsalos. The Turks, however, were repulsed with heavy losses and driven back as far as Tetherlis. General Smolenski, on hearing of the attack upon Velesino, made a sortie from Pharsalos in order to support the Greek force at Velesino.

Advices to Constantinople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 29.—There is no official confirmation of the reports that the Turkish cavalry have occupied Volo and Trikkala; but the main body of the Greek army has fallen behind the old frontier line of the Othrys mountains and the Greek squadron is confined in the Gulf of Arta by the Turkish forts.

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., April 29.—The pipe line from the oil well on the Carver farm to the Lake Erie and western railroad was completed yesterday evening, the distance being about two and a half miles. The first train-load of oil will be shipped tomorrow. The farmers and other property owners who have not leased their land are now more excited than ever, and are refusing to lease at any price.

DEBOE ELECTED.

The Senatorial Contest in Kentucky Has Finally Been Settled.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 29.—William J. Deboe, Republican, of Crittenden county, has been elected United States senator to succeed Joe Blackburn, Democrat, thus bringing to a close a contest that has probably never been paralleled. The final ballot stood: Deboe, 71; Martin, 13; Blackburn, 5; Stone, 1. Necessary to a choice, 70. The Democrats asked to be recalled and went on record for Blackburn.

The scene following Deboe's election was such as might have been expected following the close of a contest as long and bitter as this one has been. The Republican members joined in the wild cheering and lobbies and galleries were frantic with delight. Some of the members left the hall singing "Marching Through Georgia" and other patriotic airs.

On motion of Senator Bennett, Republican, the joint assembly adjourned sine die, the election of a senator being completed.

The winding out of the senatorial struggle closes one of the most unique and remarkable political contests ever witnessed in this country. The contest has strung out through 112 ballots, including one yesterday, and in the year and more during which it has been prolonged the Republicans have made four different nominations. First, Dr. W. Hunter; then St. John Boyle; Dr. Hunter again, and lastly Hon. W. J. Deboe. Blackburn has continued the Democratic nominee throughout the contest. The two Populists, who held the key to the situation for a long time last year, lost their prominence at this session, the Republicans having a clear majority of one, and they were superseded in prominence by the six Republican bolters who stood out against and defeated Hunter's election.

BACK IN WASHINGTON.

Some of the Visitors to the Grant Tomb Dedication Have Returned.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The Pennsylvania railroad's special train, which carried President McKinley, Mrs. Grant, the cabinet and the diplomatic corps to New York for the Grant ceremonies, returned to Washington yesterday. The president and his party, Mrs. Grant's party, Admiral Brown and General Miles remained in New York, as did many of the diplomats.

The company which the train carried on its return trip included Secretary of State Sherman, Postmaster General Gary, Attorney General McKenna, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Adjutant General Ruggles, the British ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, the French ambassador, M. Patenotre and about 25 other diplomats. The special made the run in 4 hours and 50 minutes, leaving Jersey City at 11: 50 and arriving in Washington at 4:40. The trip was without incident.

The vice presidential train, operated by the Baltimore and Ohio road, arrived here shortly before 5 o'clock, after a five-hour run from New York. Mr. Hobart and the committees of the senate and house returned on the train. The trip lacked incident. Speaker Keed did not return with the party, but is expected on Friday.

SATISFACTORY SHOWING.

Gold and Silver Production of California For the Past Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—The statistician of the United States mint in this city has just forwarded to the director of the mint at Washington the annual report of the gold and silver production of California, which covers the year of 1896.

According to returns received at the mint the gold yield of this state last year was $17,181,562, which is an increase over 1895 of $1,847,245. The yield of silver was $422,436, a decreased production for the year of $177,353. The total gold and silver product of the state for the year was $17,604,026, which is a total increase over the previous year of $1,669,918. This is considered a very satisfactory showing.

MADE BOGUS DOLLARS.

A United States Deputy Catches Them and They Confess.

PERRY, Ia., April 29.—Miles and Myron Marshall have been arrested here by Deputy United States Marshal Hillwig of Des Moines on the charge of counterfeiting. Some of the spurious coins as well as parts of the dies and bits of melted metal were found in their possession.

They have admitted their guilt, but claim this is their first attempt at counterfeiting. The coin they were making was a silver dollar, and it was a clever imitation, only distinguishable from the genuine by a slight dull color. The prisoners will be taken to Des Moines to appear before United States Commissioner Muson.

Bliss Not Going to Resign.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Secretary Bliss, of the department of the interior, last night denied the report that he intended to resign his portfolio in President McKinley's cabinet. Mr. Bliss said: "I am at a loss to know the authority for such a statement. I do not wish at this time to make any extended statement other than to deny the report of my intended resignation. There is absolutely no foundation for the article published."

WARREN, O., April 29.—Sarah Graham of Warren was arrested yesterday on a charge of abusing her husband. It is the first case of the kind on record here. The humane society caused the action on complaint of the husband.

DREADFULLY BURNED

Frightful Accident to a Young Lady Schoolteacher.

HER INJURIES MAY PROVE FATAL.

Her Little Sister Tried to Aid Her but Was Prevented by the Victim A Child Mangled by a Mad Dog—Railroad Directors' Meeting—Other Ohio State News Dispatches.

SINKING SPRINGS, O., April 29.—Miss Luella Staunton, aged 19, was standing near a fire in the garden, when her dress caught fire, the flames immediately enveloping her. Her 7-year old sister ran to her assistance, but Miss Staunton pushed her aside and ran about the yard screaming. A passerby happened along, but not until her clothing was entirely burned from her person, and the flesh on her breast, arms and face horribly burned.

She has been a teacher in the district school for two years, and on Saturday last the school board hired her for a third term.

Young Lady Injured.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., April 29.—Miss Olive Wilder, one of Bellefontaine's well known young ladies, stepped out of a second story window at the home of Attorney M. R. Brown, onto a roof, being unaware of a skylight, through which she fell to the room below a distance of 20 feet. No one was in the store below and the young lady was there for hours before she was found, injured, bleeding and almost dead. That she was not instantly killed is considered miraculous.

Seines Will Not Serve.

MASSILLON, O., April 29.—It is asserted that carp can not be successfully exterminated from the river here by the use of seines, as is proposed by the state game warden. These fish escape into the river from the canal, when the latter is drained for annual repairs, and this can only be prevented by placing an obstruction across the mouth of the discharging points. If the carps pursued, they bury themselves in the mud.

Railroad Election.

COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—In the election of directors yesterday for the Central Ohio railroad, leased by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, the Baltimore & Ohio influence prevailed. There were 18,000 votes out of 50,000 against the continuance of the present way by which the Baltimore & Ohio, as lessee, and in receivership, is not paying rentals to the Central Ohio, but promises to make things right in the future.

Child Mangled by a Mad Dog.

AKRON, O., April 29.—The 4-year-old daughter of P. W. Vanderhoof of Wadsworth was attacked by a strange dog yesterday. The child's face was horribly torn and bitten. The dog was undoubtedly mad. Several dogs were bitten and a number of persons narrowly escaped. Vanderhoof immediately started for Chicago with his child to secure the attendance of expert physicians.

Body Found in the Ohio.

POWHATAN POINT, O., April 29.—The body of a man was found in the Ohio river near here yesterday. It had evidently been in the water some time. Some small change, amounting to $1.25 was found in the pockets, and on one cuff button was found the name "Goodwin." The body was buried by the authorities here.

Residence Burned.

MOUNT VERNON, O., April 29.—The beautiful farm residence of Samuel McFadden, a short distance west of town, burned to the ground yesterday. The fire started from a grate in the sitting room. The household goods were saved, but the loss is estimated by Mr. McFadden at $2,200, there being but $1,400 insurance.

Incubator Causes a Fire.

ILLER, O., April 29.—An incubator caused a $500 fire at the home of Delphis Youngsten yesterday. It was heated with gas and the stove becoming overheated set fire to the woodwork. The flames communicated to an adjacent building where were 400 small chickens, which were cremated. No insurance.

A Sudden Death.

MARYSVILLE, O., April 29.—Samuel A. Cherry, Marysville's oldest pioneer citizen and business man, died suddenly of apoplexy yesterday while transacting business at his sawmill, aged 86 years. He has been a resident of this city since 1839, and was a charter member of Marysville lodge, I. O. O. F.

Found Dead in a Field.

PEEBLES, O., April 29.—Oliver Archer, a farmer, was found dead in a field about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been plowing, and was found lying near the plow with the lines in his hand and the horses standing still. He had been dead but a short time. He was 67 years old and wealthy.

He Killed Himself.

GATSPORT, O., April 29.—Clem Bitcher, a young man, committed suicide yesterday. He was only 19 years of age, and no reason is known for the act.

Residence Burned.

HIGGINSPORT, O., April 29.—G. A. Boehm's residence, two miles east of this place, burned last night. Loss, $4,000; insurance, $2,000.

REPUBLICAN Senators come very high in Kentucky, and the people have to foot the bill.

KENTUCKY Republicans didn't take down Deboe, but the doctor will not cut much of a figure in the music in the U. S. Senate.

THE Minneapolis Journal remarks that "the Republican party of Kentucky certainly looks pretty sick and as if in need of a doctor."

KENTUCKY Republicans have sent a country doctor to the U. S. Senate. Dr. Deboe may be a good fellow, but what a drop from such men as Beck!

WELL, well! After so long a time scrapping among themselves over the office, Kentucky Republicans have at last sent one of their number to the U. S. Senate.

Here's what the Hopkinsville New Era says of Kentucky's new Senator: "Instead of selecting a man of eminent ability for the United States Senatorship the Republicans in the Kentucky Legislature seem all along to have been trying to find the man who possessed the least qualifications. Never before in the history of the State have so many very small men been spoken of for such a high office. The truth of the business is that there are not more than two or three men in the Republican party in Kentucky who are qualified for the Senatorship, and Deboe is not one of them." The Owensboro Inquirer adds: "Deboe is a doctor who could not make a living, took to the law with fair success and adopted politics as a side line. He is too small for his present place, and his election would make Kentucky the laughing stock of the whole country."

The Ideal National Flower.

When a flower is found which can arouse widespread and genuine patriotic enthusiasm or has become associated closely with some great and universally beloved man or woman, it will become the national emblem without the necessity of legislative action, except as a formal ratification of a universal sentiment. Under such circumstances only will people relegate their personal floral favorites to a second place. It will not matter, when this event happens, whether it is a plant useful to man or a weed. It will become the national flower just the same. It was this sentiment which made the thistle the national flower of Scotland and the cornflower the national flower of the German empire, and it must be a similar chain of circumstances which gives us a national flower.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Condensed Testimony.

Chas. B. Hood, Broker and Manufacturer's agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, Prop. St. James Hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind. testifies that he was cured of a cough of two years standing, cause by la grippe, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming, 222 E. 25th St., Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup, because it instantly relieves. Free trial bottles at J. James Wood's drug store.

FROM THE "GOLDEN GATE."

A Maysvillian Writes Interestingly of San Francisco, One of the Great Cosmopolitan Cities of the United States.

The following private letter to Dr. A. G. Browning from his son Throop is so interesting in its description of some the big cities on the Pacific slope, that we are glad of the opportunity to present it to our readers:

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 15th, 1896.
 My Dear Papa: This being a day spent for either business or pleasure—chilly, a dense fog, and wind driving everything from an empty barrel to an ancient maiden in hoop skirts, pell mell through the streets, have concluded to seek shelter and pass the time writing home.

You've frequently asked of me something descriptive of San Francisco; for various reasons haven't been able to give it, hitherto. San Francisco you must know, is a city peculiar to itself—a city of all nations, essentially, requiring time and study of its people, their manners and customs, in order to write of them understandingly. I've been here more than a year, but a day rarely passes without something new turning up to interest and instruct me. 'Tis said one may travel the world over and in no city can be found the ever-changing sights, both moral and immoral, constantly presenting in 'Frisco. Have often thought it strange that traveled people, even east of the Rockies, know so little of this vast, busy cosmopolitan city of the Pacific coast. New York, Chicago and other cities, within Uncle Sam's domain, are ahead of us in population—to a certain extent in wealth, yet, as a matter of fact, San Francisco can, in proportion to size, furnish about as many spokes to the financial wheel as any city in the union. She has at present over 350,000 population and increasing rapidly; this does not include Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda, which are just across the bay. Oakland, the Athens of the Pacific, has a population of 60,000, and is a beautiful place—a paradise of ideal homes. But it is not of these cities, some day to make up greater 'Frisco, I started to write.

Were you here and desired a tramp, (and believe me, there are many live ones) about the city, the first point I'd suggest for novelty would be Chinatown. Chinatown is a city within a city, surrounded as it is by 'Frisco; yet as separate and distinct in appearance, habit, law and religion as if it were built upon Chinese soil. Fuddled together like so many sheep, we find some 60,000 or 65,000 souls,—I suppose they have souls! I said like sheep, but in one respect more like bairns; for it's seldom you find an idle Chinaman; they are working at something day and night.

Once within—mixed with this heaving mass of foreign production, the odor of burning opium and "ponk," together with the weird music from the ever-going Chinese juille, drives away all semblance of America; in truth 'tis not America save in name. Most of the houses are Mongolian in style, the prevailing colors being red, green and yellow, whilst nearly all articles on sale, such as clothing, &c., are imported from China. In order to see Chinatown thoroughly, it's best to engage a guide who, with parties of ten or more, will pilot you through for $1 each; and it's money well spent for an instructive object lesson. Among the points of greatest interest are the joss houses, theatres, restaurants, curio shops, &c., whilst the underground haunts afford much, such as the gambling dens, opium joints, rum shops and so on. It goes without saying that by nature the average Chinaman is filthy to the last degree; this, together with their low moral conduct, affixes a blot upon San Francisco.

But, they sell everything imaginable and cheaper than the same article can be bought elsewhere. Most of the merchants make money, make it only to send back to China. For the sake of a few cents, people wade through filth into their dens to contribute to the financial till of China, and by so doing rob our own merchants and countrymen. 'Frisco has several Chinese millioinaires.

One thing I beg to say in their favor; you may encounter "drunks" of every nationality, on the streets, but never an intoxicated Chinaman! I don't pretend to account for this; if they could stand the test of "free and unlimited drinks" I certainly could not account for it. Nor have I ever seen a bum or tramp among them. They are liberal to their young and their dead only! When one of them of any prominence dies, he is buried with great pomp and display, while on the grave is placed a sumptuous feast of roast pig, fruits, cakes, &c. This is done to feed the devil and give the poor Chinaman a chance to rest in peace. I understand that since the recent Presidential election they have abolished this custom, owing to the increased number of hungry men who hang around praying either for their own funeral, or that of a Chinaman. This is the largest settlement of this race in America, though every town in California of any size supports a Chinatown.

There are thousands of Japaneese here, but they have little or nothing to do with their Mongolian neighbor. The Japs are more Americanized; you'll find them scattered all over the city, engaged in every manner of business, dressed in citizens' clothes, and in every way conforming to their surroundings. They are regarded as good people—desirable population.

Aside from the Chinese and Japs, there are many other nationalities lending peculiar interest to the locality, and to be seen in no American city, save this.

It's not to be wondered that San Francisco, with all its attractions and natural beauty is, beyond doubt, the most immoral, wicked city in the world. When you take into consideration the great mineral products of this State, keeping up, in a degree, the wild rush of all classes to her borders in the "days of old, the days of gold, the days of '49," it need not be surprising, even at this late day, that we have here every variety of vice and degradation, and in fearful abundance. But it's a kind of gilded sin, and doesn't repel emigration or prevent a healthy growth of the city. Few who linger any length of time in 'Frisco ever willingly leave it; if so, it's only to return in time.

Situated as it is on a peninsula, with the mighty Pacific on one side, the bay on the other, we are at no loss for pure, fresh air, while the view from the surrounding hills and mountains is simply without a parallel. Here, within a very short time, will be one of the most magnificent parks of this or any other country—Golden Gate Park. I have been in all the principal parks on this continent, but in none did I find natural beauty equat to this. Imagine 1,615 acres, which in 1874 was nothing but bare sand hills, now laid out in absolutely perfect roads for driving and cycling, beautiful landscape gardening, palm trees and rustic arbors without end, and floral designs dazzling in beauty as they are wonderful in shape and variety, all intergrown with the wild geranium, heliotrope and lily of the valley. Have seen wild geraniums measuring all of seven and eight feet in height; they are often used in making hedge-fence, and as many varieties are grown, the effect is very pretty, when in full bloom. In this park in 1891, the Midwinter Fair was held; several of the buildings are still in use, and are very handsome. Within a few years more, Golden Gate Park will literally become a modern Garden of Eden. The city of San Francisco, as a whole, with its ocean, bay, mountains, lakes, fountains, statuary, flowers—its hundreds of unscheduled beauties, artificial and natural, is even now a credit, not only to our country, but to the civilized world. The hand of God and of man has been lavish in expenditure upon this wonderful city.

Next, and in my opinion, the most delightful of all, is a trip to the Cliff, or Cliff House, about seven miles from this city, and on the beach. There are several ways of reaching the Cliff; the most scenic is the Powell street line, which connects with steam cars. These cars are open and fine views may be had from both sides; they are drawn by the quaintest little locomotives you ever saw.

The scene as you skirt along the cliffs, through the Golden Gate, with the tender blue sky above and the intense, almost clear ultramarine of the water beneath, flecked with dainty lace-work of foam, is a sight alone worth a trip across the continent. It has to be seen; it can't be described.

Arriving at the Cliff House, we find a magnificent hotel of the Grecian style of architecture, built and owned by millionaire ex-Mayor Sutro, of this city. As the name implies it stands upon an immense cliff, overlooking the ocean, and near the entrance to Golden Gate. The verandas or porticos actually project several feet over the water, and by raising the windows you get a refreshing salt breeze and a fine view of the steamers as they round into port from all parts of the world. Immediately in front and only a few hundred yards distant, are the Seal Rocks; and, as the heavy waves or breakers dash against them, the roar, together with the bark from hundreds of seals, is almost deafening, and the scene one of wildness and grandeur. How long these rocks have been known to civilized man is uncertain; but doubtless the savage, centuries ago, stood upon this identical cliff and listened with superstitious awe to the luccasant barking, mingled with the thunder-like music from the mighty deep.

Every now and then, during a severe storm, a seal is crippled and washed ashore, where he is gathered up, skinned and prepared for some museum. Otherwise, they are never molested by man.

Within a few minutes walk from the Cliff are the Sutro Baths, also owned by ex-Mayor Sutro. They are by far the largest and finest in the world. Hundreds gather here daily to enjoy a plunge. Listen to good music and otherwise amuse themselves. The sea water for bathing is supplied by an ingenious use of the ocean waves, and can be forced into the tanks at the rate of 6,000 gallons a minute.

Indeed, nothing has been omitted in the building, nor in the thousand details of the surroundings to give security and add comfort to the visitors; it is a very haven of rest to the tired or worn business man, and the mere pleasure seeker alike at whatever of cost he is able or inclined to make it.

The home of Sutro, known as Sutro Heights, is near by, on another cliff still higher and overlooking both the Cliff House and baths. While a private residence, yet the beautiful gardens, broad avenues for driving, and the rare display of statuary at every turn are all thrown open to the public, free as the air of Heaven, with only this one injunction: "Please walk your horses." From this point can be obtained the most magnificent view of a Pacific sunset; and this is the most magnificent sunset on earth.

The Presidio, or Government Reservation, of 15,000 acres, is well worth seeing, especially on drill days. The grounds are improved much after the fashion of the parks, with flowers, fountains, extensive drives, &c. The officer's quarters and their residences are very elaborate and handsome—a credit to this or any country.

As to hotels, business houses, theatres, &c., San Francisco is second to none of her size, while her cable car system is the very finest on earth. It was here, on Clay street, that the first cable car was put on the track, some years ago.

In conclusion will say, that whatever is undertaken in 'Frisco is, in most cases, carried out, regardless of money, and they are not slow in doing it, either.

Should any of my Maysville friends or acquaintances contemplate a trip within the early future, there is no place on the American continent in my opinion, where their time could be spent more pleasantly or profitably than here. I make this assertion from personal observation of all the principal cities from the Atlantic to my present anchorage.

LOS ANGELES, April 18, '97.

Since writing the foregoing from Frisco, I've traveled well nigh over this entire State—traveled it, you might say, in every conceivable manner, from the palace car of the "Sunset Limited" to the skippy back of a mountain burro.

I've seen California in its every aspect—"up one side and down the other." Fresh among my experiences is life in mining or gold camps, especially at Angels, Sonora and the famous Randsburg, on the Mojave Desert. At the latter camp I spent two months, where I have to my credit five claims, or lots. Should they "pan out" as well as some already sold, will not complain. There is much to be written of this campaign, but not now; 'twould make a book. Will add, however, that a party of us, seven in number, while prospecting, about fifty miles northeast of Randsburg crossed that gruesome stretch of desolation known to the world as Death Valley. We were fairly equipped for so risky a venture, but suffered many, many hardships. Our outfit consisted of two small tents, blankets, picks, shovels, gold-pan, rifles, provisions, cooking utensils, &c., all of which was strapped to the backs of four miserable donkeys or burros. We were at least three weeks on this expedition, the last two days of which, when nearly across the valley, were passed without food or water. Have no curiosity to know how much longer I could have stood this. Say to my friends and fellow dudes in Maysville, if they have any desire whatever to test their grit beyond trying to force a number eight foot into a number five patent leather, let them face the horrors of Death Valley, any day in the year. Will leave in a few days for the northern part of the State. With much love to all,
 THROOP.

A card on the outside of office door says: "Gone to lunch. Be back in ten minutes." And the man will be there on time. That is, for some weeks, or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten-minute lunches condensed.

The man who "bolts" his lunches will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart-burn" or any of the rest of the ight-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure. They cure permanent "Pilets." Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT.

The Past Week the Most Favorable of the Present Season For All Farming Interests.

[For Week Ending April 26.]

The weather conditions of the past week have been the most favorable of the present season for all farming interests. The opening days of the week were characterized by very cool weather, many stations reporting temperatures from 5° to 8° below the freezing point on the morning of the 20th. Frost was general throughout the State, but the majority of correspondents report that no serious damage resulted from it. After the 21st the temperature rose rapidly, and has since that date remained steadily above the normal. For the first time in many weeks an amount of sunshine equalling, and in many sections exceeding the normal was received. In some of the southern and western counties the precipitation was slightly in excess of the average amount, but elsewhere there was a slight deficiency. The greater portion of the rain fell on Sunday, but scattered light showers are reported during the three preceding days.

The general effect of the conditions described was to stimulate all forms of vegetation to a vigorous growth, and a continuance of the favorable weather of the week will enable farmers to overcome to a large extent the set-backs to which their work has been subjected by the untoward weather of the early spring, which has resulted in making the planting season fully three weeks later than usual.

Western Section.—This section received considerably more rain and slightly less sunshine than other portions of the State. Vegetation of all kinds has made marked advancement and farm work is being pushed to the utmost. All crops except wheat, which in many places is reported to be yellowing, show an improved appearance. Plowing for corn is in full progress, and a great deal has been planted. Considerable complaint is made that the land plowed before and during the heavy rains has hardened and become difficult to plant. The sowing of oats was practically completed this week, and farmers generally speak discouragingly of the prospects for the crop. Gardening has made good progress and will be completed during the week. Grasses and clover are growing finely. Conflicting reports are received as to the condition of tobacco plants, but generally speaking, they are plentiful and growing nicely in the extreme western counties, those bordering upon the Tennessee line, while in many of the more northerly districts they are reported to be small and scarce. Fruits are reported to have escaped uninjured from the frosts during the early part of the week. The correspondent in Carlisle County states that strawberries will commence to ripen next week. Buffalo gnats are reported to be causing great annoyance to stock in Ballard County.

Central Section.—The week was in most respects an admirable one, though vegetation and farm work are slightly less forward than in the western section. Plowing for corn has made much progress and some planting has been done. With favorable weather conditions the work will be nearly completed during the coming week. Wheat continues to show improvement except in a few localities, where it is yellowing slightly. The sowing of oats was nearly completed during the week, and some of the early planted portion of the crop is up and growing nicely. Gardening made excellent progress, and will soon be completed. Reports concerning tobacco plants are more uniformly favorable from this than from the western district. In most instances they are reported to be backward in growth, but of good quality and plentiful. Grasses and clover are all that could be desired and early spring pasturage is excellent. Reports relative to the extent of injury to fruits from the frost of the 20th indicate but slight damage in the counties southward of Owen, Scott and Harrison. In these, and the counties northward to the Ohio, fruits in exposed localities suffered quite severely. A correspondent residing near Lexington states that there was absolutely no damage in that vicinity. Reports from Hardin and adjacent counties indicate the most favorable outlook for peaches.

Eastern Section.—Vegetation is not generally so far forward in this as in the other districts, but it has improved greatly since last week. Plowing for corn and planting have made considerable progress during the week. Potatoes have all been planted and gardening generally has progressed rapidly. Wheat is still reported to be making fine growth and is in the best condition. The sowing of oats was completed during the week, and some are coming up. Grasses and clover look very well. Tobacco plants are generally reported to be scarce and small in this section of the State. Conflicting reports are received relative to damage to fruits, but it would appear that it is considerably greater than in

Mutilated Coins.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

A short time ago Mr. J. Emmett Graves, of Lexington, Ky., wrote to the local sub-treasurer and asked if it was criminal to have in one's possession or try to pass mutilated coin. The communication was sent to the treasury, and yesterday an answer was received. According to the statutes it is no crime to either pass or have in one's possession a mutilated coin, but it is criminal to mutilate a coin with intent to defraud.

New Railroad.

An extension of the Cincinnati, Georgetown and Portsmouth road from Georgetown to West Union and then on to Portsmouth, it is understood, has about been decided upon, says the Enquirer. The extension will be via Decatur. The Chief Engineer has estimated that the extension can be built for $150,000.

RELIGION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

A Minnesota Judge Decides That It Is Un-constitutional.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., April 29.—Judges Baxter and Searle of the district court handed down an important decision in what is known as the Avon school case, whereby the school district and its teacher are enjoined from using the schoolhouse to give religious instruction or to teach the Roman Catholic catechism.

The decision applies to all public schools in the state and to all religious creeds. The practice of teaching the catechism is held to be contrary to the constitutional guaranty of freedom of conscience.

Child Killed For Asking a Question.
STREATOR, Ills., April 29.—Angered because he was asked a trivial question Frank Duhamels seized a spade and instantly killed 5-year-old John Lebo by splitting open his skull. Duhamels, who is a worthless character, called at the Lebo house yesterday and was given a job in the garden. While Mrs. Lebo was preparing him a meal her little son toddled into the yard and watched the man at work. The child asked him a question and the murder followed. Only the prompt action of getting the murderer out of the city prevented a lynching.

Prominent Pittsburger Dead.
PITTSBURG, April 29.—Arehibald M. Marshall, of the Marshall-Kennedy Milling company, died last night, aged 83 years of age, of apoplexy. Mr. Marshall was born in Butler, Pa., and came to Pittsburg in early life. He has been prominent in business circles in this city for more than half a century, and is well known throughout the country by members of the flouring trade.

Who can Measure
the influence of the Mother—it lasts through all coming ages, and enters the bodies of eternity. With what care therefore should the Expectant Mother be guarded and how great the effort to make her life happy.

"Mother's Friend"
makes child-birth easy, assists nature in its sublime effort, leaves the Mother stronger after than before confinement, and robs the hour of its terror. No Expectant Mother can afford to neglect its use.

"A customer whose wife used 'Mother's Friend' says that if she had to go through the ordeal again, and there were but four bottles to be obtained, and the cost was $100.00 per bottle, she would have them." GEO. LAYTON, Dayton, Ohio.

The Holy House Loretto.

About 15 miles south of Ancona on the main line is the station of Loretto, and on the hillside, about 8 miles from the sea, stands the city. Towering far above the town rise the great dome and campanile of the wonderful fortified church which shelters within it the santa casa, or holy house, every year the object of pilgrimage of so many thousands of the faithful. On entering the church one sees at once, standing under the dome, a strange low chapel covered with white marble carving and gleaming sculpture. A host of sixteenth century artists—chief among them Sansovino—carried out Bramante's design for the marble casing of the holy house. But in striking contrast to the rich exterior are the plain and rough stone walls of the interior. The innumerable silver lamps give a dim religious light, and the jewels on the image of the Madonna and the Child—a wonderful black image, carved, it is said, by St. Luke from cedar of Lebanon—seintillate in the gloom like innumerable stars.

Such is the holy house which angels are said to have brought from Nazareth in the thirteenth century in order to save it from desecration by the infidel. But the house was not brought immediately to Loretto. The angels placed it first on a hilltop near Fiume, on the Dalmatian shore. There it stayed for three years, when it was moved again and deposited in a wood on the opposite side of the Adriatic, near Recanati. The wood was a laurel wood, and the house was consequently called domus lauretana, or house of Loretto. Twice more, however, the house was miraculously moved short distances, till it was at length placed in its present position, not a very convenient one, it might have been imagined, for it was then the middle of the public road.

It seems almost unnecessary to say that there have been those that have made merry at this frequent "translation" of the holy house, yet an innumerable multitude of the great ones of the earth, including many popes and kings, have paid homage to this black Madonna in its rude stone cottage.—Westminster Gazette.

Belief Comes With Knowledge.
"Travelers' tales," although they have always been regarded with suspicion, were received by our ancestors in a singularly confiding spirit, and Marco Polo, and "that archliar" even, Sir John Mandeville himself, were treated with more or less respect. But as if to make up for their readiness to believe in "Gorgons and Hydras and Chimeras dire," when at a distance, other generations were singularly distrustful of most things near at hand. They displayed to a singular extent the wonderful skepticism that in all things directly touching the person generally accompanies ignorance. The state of mind was very much that of the honest farmer in the city who is in constant dread of being "buncoed."

Ignorance doubts itself, and consequently everybody and everything else. It is only complete knowledge that is more nearly credulous, and advance toward it has been shown as much by what men are willing to believe and the readiness with which they believe it as by anything else. When the marvels of the Roentgen rays were announced, the attention of the world was brought up with a round turn by a discovery almost dramatic in its suddenness and surprise. Such sharp demands are becoming more and more frequent, but if there is anything more wonderful than the amazing nature of such inventions it is the way in which they are received.—Scribner's.

How Dr. Cuyler Became a Minister.
Peter Carter, in Golden Rule, tells how the Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler became a minister. It was chiefly owing to his mother's influence. Most of Theodore's immediate male ancestors were distinguished lawyers, and one of them offered him a fine library if he would enter the legal profession. His mother, however, had consecrated him to the ministry, and fearing that he might be persuaded into the study of law she sent him abroad, which was the first of his many trips across the sea. While he was absent in Europe, his mother engaged a room for him at Princeton Theological seminary, so strong was her faith that he was to be a minister. On his return from Europe young Cuyler went with his mother to visit some relatives near Ludlowville, N. Y., and while there made two or three addresses at small religious meetings. His addresses were so successful in their effect that he was convinced that the Christian ministry was his proper field of labor.

One Too Much For Him.
Professor—Now, you have seen that these experiments can be more successfully performed with perfectly pure water than with any other. Who can tell me how to obtain the purest water known?
Student—Boil it.
Professor—Right. Now, how is water boiled?
Student—By putting it on the fire.
Professor—Right again. Now, how is the fire made?
Student (hesitating)—Er—professor, I'm not a married man.—Strand Magazine.

The Bake Off.

CRIME IN CUBA.

Sixty Men, Three Women and Five Children Brutally Murdered by Spanish.

NEW YORK, April 29.—A special cable dispatch to The Sun from Havana says the Spanish battalion of Soria has committed one of the most shocking crimes in Cuba since the beginning of the war. A Cuban hospital at Laguna Matagua, province of Mantanzas, was attacked on last Friday by the battalion, and 60 wounded and sick men, including three women and five children, were slain by the soldiery.

To destroy all proofs of their barbarity the Spaniards burned the bodies of their victims and the house in which the hospital was established.

The official report sent to Havana tells of an encounter with the patriots, in which an encampment was destroyed, but the news of the massacre from reliable sources has been communicated to General Gomez.

American Citizens Arrested in Cuba.
WASHINGTON, April 29.—Consul General Lee has reported to the state department the arrest of two naturalized American citizens in Cuba recently, in whose behalf he had interested himself.

Jose T. Damas was arrested in Havana on April 20. The consul general on being informed of the arrest made a request upon the Spanish officials for a statement of the charge upon which the man had been arrested, but up to his 21st, the date of his report, the answer had not been received.

The second case was that of Rafael Fernandez Diaz, captured by the Spanish troops at Sagua. He is now held in jail there, and in this case also the consul general has requested that all the rights conceded by the treaty be extended.

NEWS FROM THE OIL FIELD.

Few Wells Being Drilled in the Region About Portland, Indiana.

PORTLAND, Ind., April 29.—Business is more quiet in the oil field just now than it has been for any corresponding period for several years. Very few operations are being carried on, and there is a tendency to await more favorable market conditions.

The Ohio Oil company is preparing to drill on the D. Leslie farm in Washington township, Blackford county, and has also commenced its No. 1 on the T. C. Cloud farm in Jackson township, Wells county. The same company has completed a well on the L. V. Conwell farm in Van Buren township, Grant county, which is a "gasser," and one on the S. Smethurs farm in Jefferson township, Huntington county, whose prospects are not flattering.

The Clowry Oil company of Chicago has two wells drilling on Section 6, Jackson township, Wells county.

G. W. Earnes has completed his No. 4 well on the James Roberts farm in Section 36, Jefferson Township, Huntington county. The well started off with a production of 30 barrels.

The Clowry Oil company has completed its No. 1 well on the G. Wine farm in Section 6, Jackson township, Wells county. It produced 30 barrels in the first 24 hours.

Difference Between Miners and Operators.

BRAZIL, Ind., April 29.—The offer of the operators to pay 60 cents a ton for the ensuing year has caused much dissatisfaction among the miners in this district. Yesterday, in mass convention, the latter passed a resolution and placed it in the hands of a committee to carry to the operators, offering to work for 61 cents and sign no contract, or sign at 65 cents. The operators say they can not pay 65 cents and will make no agreement unless properly signed. Four thousand miners are interested.

THE NATURAL WAY.

To Cure Inflammation.

Inflammation is the sustaining element of the great majority of our physical ills; allay this inflammation, and the pain ceases, the flesh, muscles and tendons resume their normal condition and the violence of the attack is at an end.

It follows, then, that the first step in a successful assault upon disease is to destroy any existing inflammation, and with it the pain. This accomplished, the patient is at ease.

This is the natural mode of procedure, and kindly Nature has furnished the means to that end in certain roots, barks and herbs, which, in their due proportion, are constituent parts of Lightning Hot Drops, the greatest pain panacea ever known to medical science.

Freely applied to a cut, bruise, burn, scald, or flesh-wound of any nature, Lightning Hot Drops will absolutely kill the pain, prevent all inflammation and quickly heal the lacerated flesh. As an instance, what is more painful or distressing than a mashed finger, with the nail torn loose? In such a case, Lightning Hot Drops gives complete and immediate ease from pain. It will smart and burn for a few minutes when first applied to fresh cuts, sores, etc., but a few applications will take all the soreness out and heal the cut or sore. The 50c size contains 2 1/2 times as much as the 25c size. Lightning Hot Drops is prepared by Herb Medicine Co., Springfield, O., and no honest druggist will offer you anything else.
